CORN AT 91 CENTS.

The price of corn on the floor of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce yesterday reached 91 cents—the highest reached since the country recovered from civil war prices. The high price is due to a tremendous shortening of the visible supply by damage. The entire undamaged supply is only a little over one-fourth of the supply at this time last year. No corn at all is available at this time for export, as more than can be obtained is needed for local consumption. The total stock in Baltimore elevators yesterday was only 37,107 bushels.

The supply of corn is short all over the country, and the demand will not be satisfied until the marketing of the new crop. This will be a bumper, however, amounting to 2,700,000,000 bushels. It is not expected by grain men, though, that the price will come down much below 80 cents, even when the new crop is on the market, for the first part harvested will be gobbled up at practically the high price now prevailing, and so much will be needed for immediate use that the largeness of the crop will not have its usual result.

QUIET AT PORTSMOUTH.

With only a small detachment of the troops that Tuesday night patroled the streets to preserve order and assist in the capture of the negro who murdered Policeman Winingder Tuesday evening still on duty at the armory, Portsmouth is as tranquil as usual. The slayer of the policeman and the assailant of aged Mrs. Powell are yet at large, although large rewards have been offered for the capture, and the country is being scoured for them.

Walter Burke, a colored man, who has a business on Crawford street, has offered a reward of $25 in addition to the $50 offered by Mayor Reed for the apprehension of James Strong, Winingder's slayer, and Mayor Reed was advised by telephone from the governor's secretary that Governor Swanson authorized a reward of $100 for the arrest of the murderer. This makes a total of $175. Seaside Lodge, Knights of Pythias, offered a reward of $50 for the arrest of the assailant of Mrs. Powell. Norfolk county has also offered a reward of $100 for the arrest of Mrs. Powell's assailant. The governor will be asked to duplicate it.

Mrs. Powell's condition is much improved. She is only suffering from shock and the bruises about her body inflicted by the negro in accomplishing the terrible crime.

BALLOON BURNS IN MIDAIR.

By his balloon igniting and burning while fully 500 feet in the air and the flames searing such great holes in his parachute as to make it almost useless, Jacques Casselle took a frightful drop to the earth at Electric Park, Baltimore, last night. The accident was witnessed by several thousand men, women and children, most of whom turned their heads, sick at the awful sight of a man apparently plunging to a horrible death.

Falling with the rapidity of a bag of sand, the aeronaut struck the ground in a field at Wilton Heights, about a quarter of a mile from the park. When it was seen where he would land a crowd of more than a hundred men, headed by several physicians, made a wild rush for the spot, expected nothing less than to find a crushed body.

As the leaders of the crowd reached the scene they were amazed to find Casselle limping around trying to gather up the remains of the parachute, which lay in a wreck. Grasped by a physician, who could hardly believe that the man before him was the one who had experienced the thrilling drop, Casselle was found to be practically uninjured. He was weak from the shaking up he had received and was suffering from a sprained left arm, but otherwise seemed to be all right and wanted to continue looking for his machine.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Butherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING. AUG. 13, 1908.

REPRESENTATIVE LLOYD, of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, has gone to Chicago to organize the party machinery in every congressional district of the west and middle west, devoting special attention to the large number of districts where republican members were elected in 1906 by small pluralities. The chairman takes charge of the Chicago headquarters because he believes, with other democrats, that the west is to be the battle ground of this year's presidential and congressional fight and the party that gets the advantage in those states will carry off the victory. Representative Clark, of Florida, secretary of the democratic congressional committee, remains in charge at Washington and will direct the fight in the middle and new England States. Chairman Lloyd and Mr. Clark went over the situation carefully before the former left for Chicago, and came to the conclusion that with proper effort there ought to be little question of securing a good working majority of democratic members in the House. In the present House the republicans have 223 members, the democrats 167, with one vacancy. Messrs. Lloyd and Clark believe that the republican majority of 56 can be turned into a safe democratic majority in the next House, as there are 60 districts in the country where the republican candidates won two years ago by pluralities of less than 1000. In most of these districts the democrats have actually wiped out the republican pluralities of two years ago at local elections. In several districts in Illinois, for instance, the republicans won two years ago because the opposition vote was divided between democrats and labor candidates. This year, almost without exception, the labor organizations will put no candidates in the field and the democratic candidates for congress will benefit accordingly. Mr. Lloyd, after a careful study of condition in the west and middle west, is confident that he can win enough seats there to wipe out the present republican majority in the House. All he will ask of Secretary Clark and the party workers in the east, is to make enough gains in the middle states and New England to give the democrats in the next House a safe working margin of 20 to 30 votes. Secretary Clark bases this confidence on reports from New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania where the prospect of making substantial gains is all that could desired. His recent trip through New England convinced him that there will be half a dozen more democrats in the Sixty-first Congress from that region that there is in the present Congress.

THE Baltimore Sun, after a very uncomfortable position on the fence for some time past jumped to the republican side today, saying: "It is our deliberate judgment that for the next four years the material interests of the people of this country would be safer with Mr. Taft at the head of the national government than with Mr. Bryan." The remarkable reason given by the Sun for its action is the following paragraph taken from Mr. Bryan's speech at Lincoln yesterday accepting the presidential nomination:

Our platform declares that the overshadowing issue which manifests itself on all the questions now under discussion is, 'Shall the people rule?' Shall the people control their own government and use that government for the protection of their rights and the promotion of their welfare, or shall the representatives of predatory wealth prey upon a defenseless public, while the offenders secure immunity from subservient officials whom they raise to power by unscrupulous methods?

Well, we would like to ask the Sun who it wants to rule in this country if not the people.

IN order to run the fast freight trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad directly through from Harrisburg to Renovo and return, over eighty men now residing in Sunbury will remove to Harrisburg. Nine-tenths of the men are married and have families. There is no alternative for the men, as it is absolutely necessary for them to be at Harrisburg to start out on their runs. In order to avoid any misunderstanding, explanatory instructions have been posted which state that the crews are to be permanently located at Harrisburg, and the men will be expected to make that city their home. Pretty much the same condition of affairs was brought about here when the railroads commenced running around the city and ceased making up many of their trains in Alexandria.

FRENCH doctors frequently recommend horseflesh when it is necessary to give uncooked meat to invalids, and such is the demand today, says the Paris correspondent of "The Caterer," of London, that the "hippophagic" butchers—whose sign is a horse's head—have occasionally some difficulty in supplying all their customers. "I have known Englishmen in Paris eat a horse steak with evident relish, until they were told that what they had been enjoying was not what they imagined it to be; and, from personal experience, I can affirm that a good grilled horse steak, served with chopped parsley, is not to be despised," declares the writer.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 13.

One hundred and twenty-five butchers, meat dressers, and packers, employed by the Washington packers went out on strike this morning.

Notwithstanding its obligations under international law, the United States will probably not go very far out of its way in efforts to suppress the alleged revolutionary movement against President Castro of Venezuela of which Senor Don August F. Pulido, former charge d'affaires for that country in Washington, said to be the leading spirit. Nothing would please the American government quite so much as the deposition of Castro, if it could be brought about by the Venezuelans themselves, but international comity would probably require this country, ostensibly at least, to exercise care to prevent the sailing of any armed force from its shores to attack Venezuela. It could not, however, prevent the raising of subscriptions in this country to a fund, the precise object of which need not necessarily be exploited, and these are points nearer Venezuela that the American coast from which a filibustering expedition might be launched.

To settle amicably, if possible, the threatened strike of switchmen on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, President Hawley, of the national organization of switchmen, and Vice President Harahbarger, of Scranton, today petitioned the good offices of Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Commissioner of Labor Neill, forming the board of mediation constituted by the Erdman act. A short conference was held this morning and pending investigation of the matter the two representatives of the switchmen will remain in Washington. Chairman Knapp promised the switchmen that he would take the matter up with President Truesdale.

In contrast with conditions prevailing at West Point the board of visitors to the naval academy at Annapolis reported to the Navy Department today that its investigations did not disclose any evidence of hazing. The board is very favorably impressed with the discipline maintained at the academy.

Broken hearted over his political downfall, with the unpleasant prospect of assassination should he return to Constantinople to collect the several months back pay due him from the Sublime Porte, Mehmed Ali, the Syrian, sulks in an upper room of the little red brick house on Calvert street which until yesterday was the legation of the Ottoman Empire. Mehmed denies himself to callers and refuses to be comforted. Happy as a boy with a new toy pistol, Mundji, the Turk, who yesterday received from the discredited Mehmed the seals and other paraphernalia of the legation, strolls about the lobby of the New Willard telling all comers how it happened and incidentally how pleased he is.

The question of exact interpretation of the nine-hour law and its observance by certain western railroads in the employment of railroad telegraphers has been officially presented to the board of mediation, constituted under the Erdman act, by President Perham of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. The matter is an entirely amicable difference, and the board has been asked to define certain portions of the law by both the railroads and the telegraphers. President Perham was in conference with Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Neill the greater part of the morning on the matter.

LIONS SEIZED BY COURT.

Court officials at Atlantic City are in a quandary as to what to do for the next twenty days with two lions and a lioness, full grown and with big, healthy appetites, which came into their possession Tuesday night through the suing of a claim by the Reading Railroad Company against Madame Adjie, lion tamer. The three lions were seized at Young's Pier by Bailiffs Hardcastle and Thomas Shill, after their owner had refused to pay the claims of the company for freight.

"Help yourself," she said, as she waved toward three growling and hungry animals. "You can keep zem and feed zem; zey nice and tame."

Preparations to build a Hudsons Bay Railway which it is hoped will in time carry through Canada practically all the wheat of the western states, will be begun this week, when a party of 100 men will leave Winnipeg to locate the line of the proposed road. The road will be the shortest from the middle west to the European market and it is expected to divert practically all the wheat from American shipping on the Great Lakes.

The Methodist Episcopal Church, with its more than 3,000,000 communicants, has started a crusade against Speaker Cannon. It is opposed to his re-election as presiding officer of the House of Representatives, and extraordinary plans are being taken to end his arbitrary rule over that body. Cannon's attitude on the liquor question, and more particularly his killing of the bill which if passed by the last Congress would have put a stop to the shipment of liquor into communities which had voted dry at local option elections, has brought about the battle started by the church. This crusade is begun to elect a speaker "who will allow Congress to vote on the interstate liquor shipment bill."

The question whether "amberine," the substitute for beer manufactured for sale under the Byrd local option law in Virginia, can lawfully be sold in prohibition territory in Maryland will likely come up at the September term of the Circuit Court for Frederick county. Sheriff Myers arrested Frank Wood, at Brunswick, on the charge of violating the law against the sale of intoxicating beverages in Brunswick, which is a prohibition district. Woods, it is alleged, has been selling "amberine" at Brunswick. "Amberine" resembles beer in practically all particulars, but contains a smaller amount of alcohol than ordinary beer. Woods was brought to Frederick and taken before Justice C. H. Eckstein. He waived a hearing and was released in $200 bail pending the action of the grand jury.

Japan's corner in marine torpedoes is said to be broken. Acting under instructions of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, President Gompers has issued an appeal to "organized labor and friends in the United States" to contribute to the Bryan campaign fund. I. On account of his advanced age his friends fear that he will not recover. Pastor is 73 years old.

He was riding down a mountain road some four miles from the hotel at Hot Springs, when the horse's knees gave way and Mr. Taft was pitched head first to the ground. He alighted on his hands and knees. Beyond a few bruises which are not visible and a vigorous shaking up Mr. Taft was none the worse for his fall.

Another Mystery.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—In the finding of the severed head of a woman just inside the breakwater, here, the police believe they are confronted by a ghastly murder. The detectives believe they have a trace of the dead woman.

Captain James McNeil, inspector of engineers for the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Company, discovered the head last evening. It is that of a woman between 40 and 50 years old. It had been severed by a sharp instrument close to the chin.

Six hours after the head was found, a man and woman threw a box containing women's apparel from a bridge into Cuyahoga river. Fred Kling, the bridge tender, saw the man and woman come onto the bridge. They carried the trunk between them.

Kling pursued the pair for several blocks, but gave up the chase to return and recover the box. In it was found several skirts, waists, pictures of a woman and trinkets. The contents were evidently owned by a woman beyond middle age.

The steamer City of The Straits, reported Sunday that while off the city, a headless trunk was sighted. The boats were lowered, but the body disappeared before the crew reached it. The head tallies in description with the features of Mrs. Anna Gideon, who has been missing from her home since July 2. Mrs. Gideon was despondent over the disappearance of her son Bert, aged 17, and had threatened suicide.

Andrew Flower, curator of the anatomical department of Western Reserve Medical College, at the county morgue today, viewed the head found in the lake last night.

Flower declared it had undoubtedly been enbalmed and prepared for dissection at some medical college.

Previous to the discovery made by Flower, the police had proceeded on the theory that murder had been committed and practically the entire force was searching the harbor for the rest of the body.

Skeleton in the Closet.

Babylon, L. I., Aug. 13.—Residents of this exclusive colony today stand amazed at the skeleton in the closet of Mrs. Egbert V. Strong. The wealthy Mrs. Strong, who for twenty years has been condoled with as childless, has a daughter twenty years old whom she has refused to care for since its birth. For 14 years the child has lived in the home of R. H. Hunt, of Tremansburg N. Y. Mrs. Strong, Babylon's wealthiest resident, is famed for her generosity and her diamonds. Her husband maintains two big yachts on Great South Bay. Thrice in recent years, he has brought his daughter Marion in contact with her mother hoping that natural affection for the winsome girl would be aroused but each time the woman has driven her child away. Mr. Strong was thunderstruck when told that the family secret was out.

"I have built another house here in Babylon for Marion" he said, "She shall rule there in a home of her own. God alone knows why my wife so hates her child. I of all men should know, but I do not. I only know that she is not insane."

Until recently the mother's lawyers maintained the child and the father paid for her schooling. Recently however, the mother's remittances have ceased and now all that remains to the girl is her father's aid.

Mrs. Strong was a member of the wealthy Goodale family of Peconic, L. I., where she married Egbert Strong, 23 years ago, and she is said to be worth $500,000.

Statements by the physician who attended at the birth of the child so strangely hated by its mother, say that Mrs. Strong was not seriously ill at that time but that from the moment of its birth she detested the child and as strength returned the woman raved at the very sight of her offspring.

Troops to Close Saloons.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 13.—Consternation is general among saloon keepers and hotel proprietors here today through the receipt of private information that Governor Franklin Fort, may send State troops here next Sunday to close the town up tight.

It is declared that Governor Fort is shocked at the general evasion of Sunday laws here, revealed by the report of his excise commission, and that he may ask the supreme court justices to send a special grand jury to investigate conditions. It is commonly known that saloon men here absolutely ignore the closing law without any fear of prosecution by the local authorities and the proprietors of the many amusement places along the beach front declare their intention to do likewise. Should this policy be pursued, it is generally believed that soldiers on guard will soon adorn the boardwalk of the country's greatest resort.

Ran Amuck.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 13.—A. J. Duffey, an aged capitalist, ran amuck today, while suffering from epileptic insanity, and chopped off the heads of his son, Fred, and his daughter, Mrs. Ada Lacombe. He attempted to kill his wife in the same way, and then slashed his own throat with a razor. He savagely attacked policeman Coe before being overpowered. He was taken to a private hospital, where he is expected to recover.

C., and before night there will be a lynching bee, joined in by farmers from the surrounding counties. Hundreds are hurrying to the scene. The negro last evening killed in cold blood a merchant at Robesanville named Charles A Whichard.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HAIR.

Its Great Profusion Was Always a Cause of Wonder

Even at the age of 80 years, Queen Victoria's hair was a marvel of luxuriance. The court physician, following Prof Unna's discovery, undoubtedly, treated her majesty's scalp with a germ destroying preparation, that was not made public. It is now known, however, that the remedy for dandruff, the germ destroying element, is embodied in Newbro's Herpicide, the only hair preparation on the market that does destroy the dandruff germ. Without dandruff, hair will grow profusely, and falling hair will be stopped. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect"

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 78

Told of Murder.

San Jose, Cala., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Eva Seckler, wife of a music teacher here, wrote today to Coroner Burke, of Cleveland, Ohio, imploring the arrest of the man who says, murdered her sister, Lena Zeichman, and her sweetheart, Carl Benthaler, in Cleveland six months ago. She says the same man is now haunting another sister, Mrs. Antoinette Garrad, of La Porte, Indiana, to murder her, and Mrs. Seckler fears her own turn will come next.

The bodies of the Zeichman girl and of Benthaler, Mrs. Seckler, says, were found in a park in Cleveland with a revolver near the men's hand and the verdict was "Murder and suicide." Mrs. Seckler has written "I am positive they were killed by a friend like Hyde who is now after my other sister. If he kills her, I shall commit suicide.

The American Fleet.

Auckland, N. Z., Aug. 13.—Auckland did not expend its hospitality to the American fleet on the point of letting the sailors rifle team defeat the home team in today's big contest.

The Auckland marksmen were first, with a score of 2,311 points to the Americans 2,246. Though they lost the shoot, the American team was presented with a beautiful silver cup, which, under the terms of the gift, will be subject to challenge by rifle teams at all foreign ports where the fleet stops.

Mr. Bryan.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 13.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee before returning to Chicago received from Mr. Bryan permission to lay out a speaking tour for the democratic candidate. This tour can be as comprehensive as the national committee deems necessary and all arrangements will be made the latter part of next week, in Chicago. The determination of his republican opponent to keep off the platform and to deliver only a few speeches in Cincinnati had to do with Mr. Bryan's yielding to the committee and he will try to swing several of the doubtful states by the force of personal argument.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 13.—Fifteen thousand persons took part in the parade here today in connection with the gathering of the Grand Aerie of Eagles. Shanghai, Aug. 13.—The Chinese troops mutinied at Kou-Hauw, today, spreading terror along the route of their flight to the Taking mountains. More than 1,000 soldiers are involved in the mutiny and they are pillaging the villages and murdering scores of people in their rush to join the large band of rebels that is entrenched in the mountain fastnesses. Troops have been dispatched to intercept the mutineers. The troops, who were led to mutiny by the arrest of ten of their number for gambling, murdered their commander, his clerk, and secretary, and routed a large force of loyalists at Onyung.

Another Cardinal.

Rome, Aug. 13.—Cardinal Gibbons left Rome today for a short visit to Orvieto, 65 miles northwest of Rome. He appeared in perfect health and announced that the visit to Orvieto was for pleasure and not with the idea of recuperating. In a complimentary dinner to Cardinal Gibbons, last night, at which seven cardinals were present, Cardinal Aghardi, in proposing the health of their guest, alluded to Archbishop Farley as the next American cardinal. The reference evoked applause. This action is considered most significant of future developments.

The stocks after the first hour ruled steady at declines of 1 to 1½ points.

PRAY FOR RESURRECTION.

L. Emerson Wheat, a physician, aged forty-five years, was found dead in his home, at Nineteenth and Diamond street, in one of the most pretentious residential sections of Philadelphia, yesterday under most startling circumstances. Beside the body, which lay upon a couch, two women were found praying for his resurrection and muttering strange incantations, though physicians say the condition of the corpse indicated that the man had been dead at least forty-eight hours. Mrs. Fannie Soult, a professed spiritualist, and Miss Florence Beckman, who were arrested by the police were the women.

Letter to Louis J Loose,

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: What is the principal cause of unthrift in American people? Too many bargains.

The larger half of property-owners won't pay $1.75 a gallon for a good strong paint, the paint that takes least gallons, costs least, and wears longest. So they pay $2.62 a gallon for paint and get thrown-in a something that looks like paint mixed-in with paint—this stuff mixed-in is the bargain. It is whiting, china-clay, ground stone, benzine and water; nothing but whitewash.

They pay for the mixture $1.25 to $1.75 a gallon. All they see is the price by the gallon; the bargain is there.

They're buy 20 gallons at $1.25 a gallon for a 10-gallon job; and they'll pay from $2 to $4 a gallon for painting the stuff. The job costs more by half or double or more than double, and wears half as long. All this they don't see; they see only the price of a gallon—no matter what's in it.

They don't know Devoe; they don't know paint. They know a cent; they don't know a dollar.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & Co.

MR. KERN'S SPEECH.

After Mr. Bryan's acceptance speech at Lincoln, Neb., yesterday, Mr. Kern, vice presidential nominee, was called upon for a speech and said:

"While my friend, the chairman of the national committee, has been kind enough to announce me as the democratic candidate for the office of vice-president, I have as yet no certain official announcement of the fact and therefore I cannot make a political speech on this occasion. I came here today to greet these western people and to join with them, without regard to political affiliation, in paying tribute to the citizen of Lincoln whom you all love to the foremost citizen of America, William Jennings Bryan.

"I have been deeply impressed with what I have seen in Lincoln; it was worth the trip from Indiana, across the Mississippi and across the Missouri, to witness that splendid neighborly spirit which has prompted this magnificent non-partisan demonstration in honor of the man whom, without regard to political affiliation, we all love, and that leads me to say that after all the great masses of the American people are not so far apart. Partisan spirit no longer runs so high that we cannot now and then get out of the miasma of political partisanship, take a step up higher and breathe the fresh, pure air of American patriotism and be a witness, by our neighborly conduct, that we recognize in spite of political differences not only the fatherhood of God, but the brotherhood of man.

"It reminds me that although we may differ, and differ widely, on questions of political economy and of finance as to the best method of carrying on the complex affairs of this, the greatest government beneath the sun, yet when it comes to devotion to a common country and love for the grand old starry banner which is its emblem, we are as indivisible as the sea. For your kindly greetings to myself I thank you."

TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

After a terrible experience as the history of the west can show, Miss Lottie Davis and Harry Braly, assistant superintendent of the Skiddoo Mines, near San Bernardino, Cal., are near death at that camp from exhaustion. The woman, almost dead, staggered into camp and told of their experience just in time to save Braly, whom she had left unconscious in the desert.

Braly, who was accompanied by the young woman, the postmistress at the mining camp, was bringing a company automobile from Los Angeles, and decided to go through Death valley. The rough road through the desolate ravine threw the machine out of gear, and the two reached Garden station exhausted after a 40-hour trip over burning sands, alternately traveling and repairing the machine in the scorching heat.

After a rest at Garden station the two resumed their journey, when the machine finally broke down at Ballarat. Then they decided to abandon it and walk to Wild Rose station. For hours they struggled over the road, until blinded by the sun and parched with thirst. Braly fell unconscious. Miss Davis endured only long enough to reach the camp.

Granulated Sore Eyes Cured.

"For twenty years I suffered from a bad case of granulated sore eyes, says Martin Boyd of Henrietta, Ky. "In February, 1903, a gentleman asked me to try Chamberlain's Salve. I bought one box and used about two-thirds of it and my eyes have not given me any trouble since." This salve is for sale by W. F. Creighton and Co., and Richard Gibson.

ROANOKE DENTIST ON TRIAL.

W. S. Gregory, a dentist, charged with an attempted assault on Miss Theodora Irvin and released immediately after arrest on $1,000 bail last Sunday, was yesterday put on trial in the Police Court in Roanoke.

Gregory's alleged victim and a woman friend of the latter testified behind closed doors. When the doors were opened Gregory made a general denial of the allegations, saying he had not mistreated the patient and that her story was all an hallucination, the result of chloroform administered by him while working on a tooth. His story was substantiated by a negro boy employed in his office. Physicians testified as to the effects of chloroform.

Miss Elsie Patterson, the heretofore "mysterious young woman" in the case, was put on the witness stand by the State. She said she went to Gregory's office at the time his alleged victim was in the operating room and that she found the door between the reception room and the operating room locked. She knocked, but got no response. Later she tried the knob and shortly after that Gregory partly opened the door and told her to return later. She swore she saw the patient in the chair and that she looked like a corpse. Miss Patterson testified that Gregory told her when she returned to have work done on her teeth not to bring her sister with her. The case will be continued tomorrow.

When Miss Irvin told E. M. Coulter and Lee Keedick of her treatment at Gregory's hands on the day of the alleged assault they went to Gregory's office and gave him a terrible beating. All of the principals are prominent.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he know its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

SHERIFF KILLS NEGRO.

After a fierce encounter with George Quander, a murderous negro, of Fairfax county, Deputy Sheriff Wm. D. Cross, of that county, yesterday afternoon shot and killed the negro. The pistol used was of .32 calibre. It appears that the deputy sheriff had a warrant for Quander, who had assaulted another negro in Fairfax county last Saturday. The deputy said he had been hunting Quander since that time, knowing that trouble would ensue when the negro was caught. When he came upon the negro yesterday afternoon near Ballenger's store he denied his guilt and did not seem to want to submit to arrest. Constable Cross deputized Messrs. Robert Ballenger and Bert Ayers to assist him. The sheriff then requested these gentlemen to secure his horse and buggy and when Mr. Ballenger entered the stable the negro Quander grabbed Cross around the body and endeavored to draw the sheriff's pistol from his hip pocket. Then followed the struggle and the negro, who is a well built man, fought fiercely. During the tussle the pistol in the pocket of the sheriff was discharged twice, doing no damage except to the clothing of the officer. The negro then ran and the officer fired three shots at him, one of them with telling effect. The shot penetrated his arm and severed an artery. When overtaken a short distance from the store, he begged for mercy and told the officer he was wounded. When found in a clump of bushes he asked Mr. Ballenger to give him some water and when he had returned with it from a nearby spring the negro had bled to death. The body was brought to this city and prepared for burial by Demaine & Son. Quander was a dangerous negro having served several terms in jail. He was a nephew of Felix Quander, the desperado of Fairfax county, whom many remember as a general disturber of the peace. He was married and lived at Pohick. Following the shooting the deputy sheriff gave himself up to Mr. Robert Ballenger, of Fairfax county, who drove with him to this city. A coroner's jury was then summoned by Justice of the Peace Stuart, who acted as coroner, and the jury rendered a verdict that Quander came to his death by being shot by Cross and completely exonerated Cross from all blame. The jury was composed of the following: Frank M. Ballenger, foreman; George Watkins, George K. Pickett, L. S. Nalls, Sidney Hammersley, and Joseph Hardbower. It has been learned since the shooting of Quander that he has had considerable trouble of late. Last week, it is said, two young men by the name of Devers and Taylor set fire to Quander while he was drunk and he was badly burned. He later met these men and whipped them both. It is also said that he assaulted a man and wife near Gum springs a day or two ago, and also shot three times at a negro near Occoquan.

When within a mile of the finishing line a secondary wire connecting the coil of the engine with the commutor broke, and the motor stopped. The airship was brought down in a cornfield, and after Mr. Curtiss repaired the motor the flight was continued. The accident prevented any possibility of making the speed required by the contract, but Captain Baldwin has two more trials in which to demonstrate its speed.

Mr. Victor Emerson and party of friends will be in the party, traveling in his new boat Victor II.

This annual visit to the lower river is looked for with great interest by the yachtsmen.

MONEY SHARKS.

There are various scraps and hot arguments reported in this city daily due in a great measure to the ease a working man or women can secure money. This vicious practice has thrived ever since the invention of money and is carried on by men denominated as "shylocks" or "loan sharks." That the business which is notoriously oppressive and iniquitous should have survived so long is proof that it should be supplanted by some method that will produce the some beneficent result without the attendant injustice. It is no doubt true but for the ease in obtaining money from these "sharks" many young men who are now heavily involved in debt, would be in position of affluence.

POTOMAC ASSOCIATION.

The Potomac Association of the Baptist Church of northern Virginia met yesterday at Mt. Hope Church, near Waxpool, Loudoun county, in the thirty-third annual session. The association is composed of churches in Loudoun, Fauquier, Clarke, Alexandria, Fairfax, Stafford and Prince William counties, with a membership of 570,918 18 pastors and 56 churches. The moderator of the association is Judge Charles E. Nicol, of Manassas; J. A. Odley, of Philomont, Loudoun county, is clerk of the meeting. The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. W. S. Cole, of Remington.

PRINCE IMMANUEL'S FREE-MASONIC DISCOVERY.

True Masonic lodges and Royal Arch chapters in or near Alexandria are welcome to have a document, signed March 5, 1907, by the Jewish Prince Immanuel, of Jerusalem, Palestine, a representative of the Oriental University of this city, who has been introduced to free-masons of the United States by Mr Rolla Floyd, passed W. M. and a R. A. M., of Philadelphia, read in their assemblies It contains a description of most interesting discoveries of masonic documents under the temple quarries of Jerusalem by the prince, who seems to be gifted with extraordinary magnetic powers. He claims to have discovered also the threads of the "Order of the Golden Rule of Jerusalem." Invitations are accepted from whole lodges only, not from individuals. He lectures on "Precursors of Free-masons before Solomon" given in a number of lodges in the state of New York is also open to a like invitation. Prof. H. P. Holler, Oriental University, Alexandria.

AMUSEMENTS.

The character of the entertainment furnished the patrons of the moving picture houses is of such a high order that the two houses are doing a thriving business. Tonight there will be a complete change of pictures at the Alexandria Amusement Company's as will be seen by a glance at their advertisement.

The Opera House will present a good show to their many patrons and judging from the number of people who visit the Opera House it must be an entertaining performance.

FELL FROM ROOF.

A young man named John Hamilton, who is employed by Mr. Joseph Gates, the plumber, yesterday while at work on the new houses being erected in the western part of the city by Mrs. James Roche accidentally stepped from the roof and fell to the ground, receiving painful, but not serious injuries.

THE WEATHER.

The weather continues warm though a light breeze has prevailed during the day. Last night was warm enough to prevent many people from sleeping comfortably and the morning brought little relief. The mercury at noon today reached the 91 mark.

MORE COMPLAINT.

The residents along Henry street are up in arms against the railroad authorities for continuing the noisy engines which run up and down that throughfare all hours of the night. To add to the general nuisance the whistle of a locomotive got loose last night and blew continuously for hours.

HOSPITAL DAY.

A meeting will be held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, tonight, at 8 o'clock, to perfect arrangements for Alexandria Day at Luna Park. It is desired to make this the most profitable benefit ever had for the "Hospital," an institution of which all Alexandrians are proud.

"Going Out to See a Man."

"Going out to see a man" was the invention of Artemus Ward. One night in the winter of 1865, when the humorist was about half through his lecture, he paralyzed his audience with the announcement that they would have to take a recess of fifteen minutes so as to enable him to go across the street to "see a man." H. R. Tracey, the editor of the Washington Republican, was in the audience and, seeing an opportunity to improve upon the joke, pencilled these lines and sent them to the platform:

"Dear Artemus—If you will place yourself under my guidance, I'll take you to 'see a man' without crossing the street."

Artemus accepted the invitation, and while the great audience impatiently but with much amusement awaited the reappearance of the humorist the latter was making the acquaintance of Aman, a well known restaurant keeper at that time, and luxuriating at a well laden refreshment board. Of course everybody "caught on to" the phrase, and men became fond of getting up between the acts and "going out to see Aman." The restaurateur's business from that time forward boomed. Men who would ordinarily sit quietly through an entertainment and behave themselves allowed themselves to be influenced by the contagion.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

He Was Careful of His Voice.

Brignoli, the famous tenor, was very susceptible to flattery, and it is said that once in New York when the orchestra vigorously applauded one of his favorite songs he was so touched that he came down to the footlights and invited them all to a champagne supper at the Everett House. The supper cost him $500.

Brignoli was very careful of his voice and was terribly afraid of drafts. It was once stated that during the winter it always took him three-quarters of an hour to get from his room to the street. First he would on leaving his room pace the hall for ten minutes to get acclimated. He then descended to the lobby, where the temperature was a little lower, and spent twenty minutes there. He then ventured to the vestibule, from which the door opened into the street. He would parade the vestibule for fifteen minutes, occasionally opening the door to let in a little cold air. Being now accustomed to a cool temperature, he would button up his coat and sally forth.

A Fast Record.

At a political convention held in Illinois the importance of nominating a popular man for a certain close district was thoroughly recognized. A speaker had just renominated a personal friend for the position and in an elaborate eulogy had presented in glowing terms his manifold merits, especially emphasizing his great services on the field of battle as well as in the pursuits of peace.

After he had finished a voice was heard in the rear of the room. "What we want is the man that will run the best."

In an instant the orator was again on his feet.

"If you think," he yelled, "that this convention can find anybody that can run better than the gentleman I have nominated, I point once more to his well known war record."—Lippincott's.

Mysterious Green.

To those who believe in the influence of color the shades of green afford an interesting study, not only because of the large number of green things found in nature, but the scale of greens is so varied.

Green is, or was, the chosen color of Venus or the Scandinavian goddess Freya and should be worn upon Friday, her name day.

The color has always been considered mysterious in its influence. All green creatures, such as snakes or birds, are weird, and people with what are known as green hazel eyes need to be carefully considered, and among clairvoyants green stands for intellectual power, just as they speak of the "blue of peace, rose of love and scarlet of anger."

His Honor Vindicated.

A couple of good natured Frenchmen got into a quarrel and challenged each other to fight. On the morning of the duel they and their seconds tramped through the woods to the fatal spot, when one of the duellists, the challenging party, tripped and fell. His second helped him to his feet.

"I hope you are not much hurt," said the other duellist.

"I'm not much hurt. I only bumped my noise on the ground."

"Does it bleed?"

"Yes, a little."

"Heaven be praised! Blood flows, and my honor is vindicated. Give me your hand, old boy!"

Betting in the Nursery.

"Mamma," said her boy, "I just made a bet."

"What was it?" she asked.

"I bet Billy my cap against two shoe buttons that you'd give me a penny to get some apples with. You don't want me to lose my cap, do you?"

He got the penny.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Vegetarian.

First Deacon—Our new pastor must be a vegetarian.

Second Deacon—Why do you think so?

First Deacon—There doesn't seem to be any meat in his sermons.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"When a man wants an excuse," said Charles Kingsley, "the devil will soon fit him with a good one."

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson, of Drumquin, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets as "the best medicine ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant to effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

French Economy.

"A man doesn't have to go to Paris to learn something about the economy of French cooks," said a janitor. "All he has to do is to get a job like mine in a house occupied mostly by French families, and he'll learn some astonishing lessons in the art of saving. Up to two months ago I was working in a building of that kind. So far as attending to the garbage was concerned, I had the easiest time of my life. There was practically no garbage. The people lived well enough, I guess. Anyhow they received packages from the butcher and grocer, but they never seemed to throw anything away. About the only thing they didn't eat was coffee grounds and potato skins and tomato cans, and there was precious little waste of even that.

"Where I am working now the families are all American. That is where the food goes to waste. The people in that house throw away enough provisions every day to feed all those French families a week."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Made the Judge Perspire.

Sir John Charles Day, the English judge who earned the title of the "hooligan's terror," died at the age of eighty-two. In the nineteen years Sir John was a judge of the high court—from 1882 to 1901—he was noted for his gift of solemn humor and for his drastic flogging sentences. In fourteen years he sentenced 137 criminals to 8,766 strokes of the cat. Once he said to a gang of Liverpool ruffians: "I am not going to give you men long terms of imprisonment, but when you go in you get twenty lashes of the cat; when you have been in nine months you get twenty lashes of the cat; before you come out you get twenty lashes of the cat. And then you can show what you have got to your friends." He was perhaps the only English judge who ever did "hard labor." While on a visit to a prison he tried the treadmill, but when he asked to be set free the guard pretended not to hear his request. The judge was perspiring freely by the time he was permitted to abandon his experiment.

Eggs Barred.

One evening a solid looking citizen, carrying a basket, bought a ticket and started to enter the opera house in a Long Island town. Just as he was going in the cover of the basket unaccountably slipped off, revealing two dozen eggs.

"Hey!" said the ticket taker. "This isn't Easter. Where you going with them eggs?"

"None o' y'r business! Here's my ticket, all paid for an' reg'lar," declared the citizen.

"Well, there don't any eggs go inside while I'm here," said the ticket taker, and then the other saw the reason his burden was suspected and roared with laughter.

He left the eggs in charge of the man at the box office and entered, and he enjoyed every moment of the show. When it was over, the manager returned the eggs to him and said:

"I was afraid you might put your foot into the basket while you were applauding."

The Bite of a Dog.

"I want to say a few words about hydrophobia," said a physician. "When an animal bites through clothing there is little or no danger of infection. The virus is on the teeth of the animal and when the person bitten has received the wound through a layer of clothing there is little danger.

"The virus on the teeth is left in the clothing and is not communicated to the person bitten. Rabid dogs or other animals are not like reptiles. They have no hollow teeth through which poison may be communicated. It must be introduced directly into the system of the victim.

"Therefore, when a supposedly rabid dog bites a person, if the bite is not on an exposed part of the body he should have no fear."—Washington Post.
